No, gentle reader, we have seen hotter days than this, also cooler ones.

The person who inately asks "Is this hot enough for you?" ought to stew in it.

The beef famine—If famine there is to be—comes at the time when it will be the least felt and with the smallest result.

From the tone of the two sides in the Rutland labor difficulty there will never be a flash of the fight. But those statements are generally a prelude to a settlement which is bound to come sooner or later.

Company M. V. N. G., of Burlington, spent Sunday in camp in preparation for the trip to Manassas in September. The men were given some practical training in military life which would be invaluable to the other companies of the Vermont National Guard.

Judge A. B. Parker of Esopus, N. Y., attended church Sunday. To such a height of fame has the Democratic candidate for president risen that the press of the country has seen fit to chronicle such details of his everyday life. It is an absurdity pure and simple for the press to do it.

CLEANING UP THEIR TOWN.

The efforts of the Rutland city authorities in attempting to close up the resorts which have been running in their city may be late, but they are gratifying notwithstanding that fact. Saturday evening a simultaneous descent was made on five suspected places, and at all, with one exception, liquor was found and the keepers were summoned to appear in court. The fact that liquor was found in four places is no revelation, as it had been conceded all along that liquor was being dispensed in some places. Friends and foes of the present liquor law had been free to express their belief in the true situation, and it is to be wondered at that efforts were not put forth sooner to close the places. All will express the wish that the movement, well started, will be continued to a successful issue. The Rutland city attorney, P. M. Meidon, who appears to be responsible for the raids Saturday night, will have the backing of both factions.

The long headed and far-seeing man will buy two of these Suits if he comes on time. 'Is' been "proved and demonstrated" that it's economy to wear them alternate days. The price today will enable every man to try the experiment.

EX-JUDGE M'KOOK SEEN.

New York Police Do Not Believe He Was Kidnaped.

New York, July 19.—Middletown (N. Y.) acquaintances of ex-Judge Dennis D. McKoon of New York, the aged lawyer who disappeared several days ago, say the judge arrived there Friday afternoon and was seen there Saturday. He resided in Middletown several years ago.

"This office is not at all disturbed over the McKoon case. We don't believe he was kidnaped," was all Inspector McCluskey would say when asked about ex-Judge McKoon's disappearance.

"Have you learned anything of the missing man's whereabouts?" he was asked.

"No. We are taking no further interest in the case," was the inspector's reply.

Mr. McKoon is a lawyer, seventy-six years old, and has considerable property interests in Staten Island. He is said, however, to have been "hard poor" and to have been pressed for ready money. He disappeared on Friday, after calling at 42 Broadway, where he had desk room. Since then his son has received several letters, in his father's handwriting, he says, to the effect that the old man was kidnaped near the Astor House on Friday, and that he would be released on payment of $5,000.

This sun McKoon asked his son to bring to "Pearl street" at 2 p. m. on Saturday. The son was at Pearl and Whitehall streets at that hour, but saw no one. He went to that corner because the elder McKoon had previously claimed to have received letters threatening to kidnap him unless he met the writers there and paid them $5,000. The police claim that McKoon's "disappearance" has been reported several times in the past.

Canal Commission Meeting.

Washington, July 19.—Admiral Walker, president of the Panama canal commission, has called a meeting of the commission in this city for next Saturday. All canal matters pending here will be put in shape preliminary to the departure of the commissioners for Panama, whence they sail July 26, accompanied by General Solicitor Magoon, Treasurer Kony and Auditor Armstrong, to enact legislation for the government of the strip.

Gone to Shoot Indians.

Mount Vernon, N. Y., July 19.—John, the twelve-year-old son of James McCaffrey of the firm of Tigges & McCaffrey of South Seventh avenue, is missing from his home here. So are the receipts of the firm for Saturday. The father says the lad is a reader of dime novels, and he believes he has gone west to shoot Indians.

Thought It Was Real War.

Tacoma, Wash., July 19.—During the army maneuvers at Stellacoom, after Troop E, Ninth cavalry (colored) had been ruled out of action by the umpires, they charged on the Washington troops and Nineteenth infantry on their front and with drawn sabers slashed right and left among the infantry, creating a reign of terror for a few minutes. During the melee three members of the Second Washington and one regular were seriously injured.

First.—That the said company will pipe into the cellar and attach a meter at its own expense.

Second.—That the said company will furnish gas to the undersigned for $1.50 per 1,000 cubic feet, less a discount of 25 cents per 1,000 cubic feet if paid by the 10th of the month following service.

NAME,

STREET,

ABOUT THE STATE.

Items of Interest Gleaned From Our Exchanges.

Preparation are already beginning for the annual Dog River Valley fair, which will take place at Northfield in September as usual. It is the intention of the officers of the society to do everything possible to hold the fair up to the high standard of past years and if possible to make it an even greater success.

The twin sons of John Cowan of Worcester, Mass., George and Gerald, aged 11 years, were buried in the Catholic cemetery at Newport yesterday. The boys were drowned near Worcester. The family moved from here last spring. Mr. Cowan was a clerk in the Boston & Maine office here for several years.

The beautiful residence of Peter Griffith, on the Hydeville road near Fair Haven, was burned to the ground early yesterday. Mr. Griffith was awakened by the smoke and barely saved the lives of his children. His wife was away. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin. The loss is $6,000 with an insurance of $5,000.

A barn belonging to O. W. Ford, liveryman, and situated on the intervalle meadow southeast of the village, Richmond, and near the Canadian Pacific railroad bridge was burned Sunday night together with a quantity of farming implements. The loss is estimated at $400, the insurance on the barn and contents, being $250. Fortunately, Mr. Ford had not cut his hay, but was about to do so this week. The cause of the fire was doubtless the carelessness of someone who was smoking in the barn.

The annual lawn tennis tournament for the championship of the state will be held on the courts of the Old Pine Golf Club, at St. Johnsbury, Aug. 2, 3, 4 and 5, 1904. The winner of the singles will be required to play Henry Mollenhauer of Brooklyn,
